About Clover and Timothy Seed.

Advancing Price a Warning of Danger.—In March, 1900, the Department issued a circular on red clover seed, in which attention was called to the probable continued advance in price, and consumers were warned against the purchase of low-priced seed. Events have fully justified the fear that with advancing price much seed of poor quality, as well as adulterated seed, would be offered. Reports coming from various sections of the United States show that a large amount of adulterated seed is offered, and that where buyers are not sufficiently careful or well informed much is actually sold. The clover-seed crop of 1900 has not been up to the average in either quantity or quality, especially in the States that furnish the higher grades. This has resulted in a further increase in price, and today really first-class red clover seed commands a higher price than it has for many years.

The same may be said of Timothy seed, only in a less extent. The price has brought out all the old and inferior seed. It is well for consumers to look to where they buy their seed. Some parts of the middle and western portions of this State are badly sown with broad-leaved plantain and buckhorn. We have now in stock 500 bushels of Timothy, all grown in this locality. It has all been re-cleaned, and is absolutely free from weed seed. We know the farms from which most of it came, and there is no weed like the plantain and buckhorn on the land. We will sell you as cheap or cheaper than you can buy elsewhere, and you can feel assured that you are getting nothing that will foul your land.
